

I Will Give Thanks To You Lord

by Gustavo Miller, October 31, 2020

The Psalmist David (King David) wrote this in Psalm 9. ¹ I will give thanks to you, Lord, with all my heart; I will tell of all your wonderful deeds. ² I will be glad and rejoice in you; I will sing the praises of your name, O Most High. This is a man who lack absolutely nothing. He had everything he wanted yet he knew that without God we are nothing, and we owe him everything.

I am totally taking the verses out of context but the only reason why I do this is because it struck me when I was reading. I have not always been thankful to God; to my Lord.

“The Lord is a refuge for the oppressed, a stronghold in times of trouble. Those who know your name trust in you, for you, Lord, have never forsaken those who seek you”

There has been a time in where I was rebellious and defiant to God. A time when I did not see what he was doing for me; I was blind and couldn't see neither realized how much it had costed him; to love me it costed him his life. The least I can do, is start everything I do, praising and thanking him for everything

The Lord reigns forever; he has established his throne for judgement. His reign has no start neither has an end. He has always been, and he will always be, he will never change. His throne is not in a place we can reach and only those who he has selected will make it there. A throne is a place reserved to a sovereign and righteous person, in this case our Father God in heaven. No one knows how this throne is; how magnificent -or humble, the throne is. We also know that he sits there -he is there now, and he will judge whoever stands in his presence.

I know what I have done in my life, I know how bad my actions have been, therefore I know what I deserve. But I also know that Jesus Christ has accepted me as his and he has forgiven my sins. His death in the cross has cleansed me white as snow. He has gone to heaven to prepare a place for me, so that I may rule with him throughout eternity.

“My enemies turn back; they stumble and perish before you. For you have upheld my right and my cause, sitting enthroned as the righteous judge”. When the times comes no one would be able to stop what Jesus has already declared; that I will be with him and that I will inherit the throne with him. No matter how much my enemies struggle to get me, then cannot. I will forever be thankful to God for saving my soul even though I still have some more work to do, even though there will be pain in the process I will follow him until the end of my days.

I will give thanks to you Lord, because you alone are worth the praise, because you are the king of kings and Lord of Lords. May every thing I do be acceptable to you Lord, and forgive me for the times when I fail.
